Welcome to FEATS 2002

The English Comedy Club of Brussels is delighted to welcome you all to the 26th Festival of European Anglophone Theatrical Societies.

Last year was a very special 25th Anniversary of FEATS arranged by the AATG in The Hague and it was fitting that it should be hosted by them. The late Mervyn Briscoe of the AATG began this beloved festival with two nights and six plays during the 1976 British Week in Rotterdam. Now we rotate between Brussels, Antwerp, The Hague, Frankfurt and Luxembourg. We've been to Geneva and we may even go to Hamburg in the future. The ECC sent out around 30 invitations to the groups on the FEATS list and still the list grows with groups wishing to take part. This year we are welcoming for the first time two groups from Stuttgart - one in the competition and one in the Fringe. Our adjudicator in Brussels this year is Mike Tilbury whom we also warmly welcome. Of course, there are those of you who have just come to see plays, in which case you will rarely find an opportunity to see such a wide variety of theatre.

For those new to FEATS, here is a brief synopsis of the rules, and the shape of the festival. Each evening three groups present the best overall production of a play of their choice, which may be an original script, one act of a full length play which stands on its own, or a one-act play. It must last between 25 and 50 minutes. There are two intervals of around 20 minutes and after the third play, following a brief pause when we ask you to remain in your seats, the adjudicator will give us his impressions of each play. On the day of performance, each group has two hours in the theatre, but only five crew are allowed 10 minutes to put up their set and 5 minutes to strike it after the show. If any of these rules are violated, penalty points are awarded. Our adjudicator, Mike Tilbury, will be following the marking system set down by the Guild of Drama Adjudicators and on Monday evening he will reveal the results and award prizes.

But FEATS is more than just a play competition: it's meeting old friends and making new ones, catching up on theatre stories, revelling in our favourite hobby. FEATS gives theatre enthusiasts the opportunity of seeing how different groups approach their production, proving that there is always more than one way to stage a play. We can discuss ideas and exchange techniques too. The theatre bar is a perfect venue for this and we shall stay open each evening as well as opening up at lunchtime for both food and drink. We hope to create a real festival spirit. We are running a Fringe around lunchtime on Saturday and Sunday and we have a new idea: Youth Fringe. This will take place at the Warehouse Studio Theatre in Schaerbeek on Monday and is to encourage the younger thespians among us. Look at the noticeboard by the Box Office to find out more.

The ECC is delighted to be able to provide permanent awards for Best Actor and Best Actress. Mrs. Barbara Blackwell is donating these two awards in memory of her late husband Blackie, who was for many years Chairman of the ECC and a great FEATS enthusiast. Like an Oscar or a Bafta, in future a "Blackie" may be awarded to the Best Actor and to the Best Actress, and the festival host group will give them a small token to keep.

There are many regular visitors to FEATS: some come to watch, some come to compete, and they come from all over the world. Indeed, we have on our ECC Festival Backstage Crew old friends who have flown in from very far away just to be part of the team! Some of us just can't keep away - so to competitors, Fringe-ers and anybody who has come along for the ride and the fun, "Break a Leg!" and have a wonderful weekend.

Chairman, English Comedy Club

DIANA MORTON-HOOPER DEEKS,
Chairman, FEATS 2002

MIKE TILBURY GODA

Mike Tilbury has been actively involved in theatre all his life, dividing his time between acting, directing and adjudicating. He is a Council member of The Guild Of Drama Adjudicators and is its immediate past Chairman during a period in which he was instrumental in bringing about considerable change and modernisation. He has sat a number of times on the examining panel at the Selection Weekend for prospective adjudicators and has run a number of acting workshops.

He is the current Chairman of The Drama Festivals Consortium, a body formed by representatives of the leading Festival organisations in England, Scotland, Northern Ireland and Wales. He has appeared in productions at the famous Minack Open-Air theatre in Cornwall and is currently Chairman of Trinity Theatre Company based in Tunbridge Wells. His last productions as director have been Kay Mellor's

A Passionate Woman, Tennessee Williams' The Glass Menagerie and Alan Ayckbourn's Communicating Doors. Later this year he will be starting rehearsals for his first French farce

His adjudicating work has taken him all over the country and also to Guernsey, Gibraltar and Spain, where he adjudicated the Costa Del Sol Festival - in English, with temperatures in the 90s and bats flying around the auditorium!

He has adjudicated the Welsh, Irish, Scottish and British Finals of the All England Theatre Festival as well as the NDFA All Winners Festival on two occasions. He has recently completed a two week Full Length Festival in Northern Ireland. His first FEATS was at Luxembourg two years ago and he is particularly delighted to be returning this year to Brussels.

He is married, the father of 17 year old twins and lives in East Sussex.

FEATS Fringe

co-ordinated by Carrie Ellwanger, Sue Botterell and Alan Kenway

You don't have to drive a surrey ...
you don't have to be a lunatic ...
you don't have to have a new haircut ... to enjoy the Fringe!

Performances will be on Saturday and Sunday, from about 11 am to 3 pm, in the red area by the bar. The schedule will be posted daily and is subject to change. This means that we will be ready and waiting for any and all eventualities ... So, if Sunday on morning you are seized by the performance bug and just have to jump up and do your secretly rehearsed stand-up comedy routine that your dog just adores and that you've really been dying to have the nerve to try out in public ... you can.

Of course, we like advance notice, too, and we've had loads of emails from (among others) the ATC, NEAT from Stuttgart, NWTC of Luxembourg, the Stockholm Players, and some cool people from this group that's called the ECC. There's going to be folk music, some Chekhov, An Actor's Nightmare, a group dynamics workshop, at least two monologues, and a group called Tiger Rose performing, quote, 'Music for Adults'!

Most performances will last roughly 30 minutes, so even if you can't come for the whole afternoon, drop by and see what's on the notice board. Support those brave souls who've decided that singing isn't just for the shower any more.

Don't miss Sybil's Super Sandwiches on sale at lunchtime and during the intervals each day. Or why not pre-order drinks for the intervals from Paul Davis and his team at the bar. The FEATS Bar is open at lunchtimes and before the performances, during the intervals and after the adjudications.

FEATS Youth Fringe

sets the stage for young people

As part of this year's FEATS events, apart from the now traditional FEATS Fringe, the ECC is launching a new venture: Youth Fringe - to take place in the Warehouse Studio Theatre, 69a rue Waelhem, 1030 Schaerbeek. Several local Youth Groups have agreed to participate and the programme will provide a wide range of young people's theatre entertainment.

The day will include a presentation of a new play entitled 'Team Spirit' by the author Judy Upton, specially commissioned for the London Royal National Theatre's International Connections Scheme and performed by the Senior Youth Group of TIE (Theatre in English/Theatre in Education), designed by Janet Mayo and directed by Lynne Vaughan. A video of this play's world première is currently being judged by the RNT to see if a repeat performance can be justified in the Cottesloe space of the London National Theatre in July 2002. The TIE Junior Youth Group, led by Stephen Challens and Angela Martin, will present two short plays based on works by Ovid and Aesop. Pat Robinson's British Youth Theatre Society (BYTS) will perform 'The Island' - an original play written by the Society's founder Patti Arundel.

This is certainly a first and the ECC hopes that future FEATS Host Societies will follow up this exciting initiative to encourage Youth Theatre as part of the FEATS Fringe Festival. The Producer of FEATS Fringe Youth Day 2002 is Mike Cockburn, President of TIE. Visit their website or Mike's e-mail to find out more.

out of competition

AN OCCURRENCE AT OWL CREEK BRIDGE BY AMBROSE BIERCE

The Cast

Narrator Robert Rowe

The Production Team

Members of the ECC FEATS 2002 Organising Team

About the Story

A man stands upon a railroad bridge in northern Alabama. The time is the Civil War in America between the Yankee or Federal soldiers of the North and the Confederates of the South.

Ambrose Gwinett Bierce is still well-known for his Devil's Dictionary. Born in Ohio on 24th June 1842, he fought for the Union in the Civil War, prospected for gold, worked as a journalist for William Randolph Hearst and wrote short stories before literally disappearing in Mexico in 1914. This short story is, unlike the Devil's Dictionary, in no way facetious or cynical.

About the Group

The English Comedy Club of Brussels was founded in 1909 by a certain E.A. Erlich, although rumour has it that there was a group of amateurs who put on plays at around the time of the Battle of Waterloo in 1815. We share rehearsal space and a small studio theatre with the ITG and ATC in Schaerbeek and aim to put on two mainstage and two or three studio productions a season plus monthly playreadings. The ECC is a founding member of FEATS. The Club offers An Occurrence at Owl Creek Bridge as a curtain raiser to the festival and does not wish to compete with its guests, just to entertain them.

Narrator Robert Rowe has lived in Brussels for some years and represents, in a way, all the Brussels-based theatre groups, having directed plays for, or acted with, the ECC, ATC, BSS, BLOC and ITG. He has been chosen as Best Actor at FEATS twice, in 1985 and 1988, when he was with the New World Theatre Club in Luxembourg.

Makeup/Hair	Fenne de Graaf
Props	Jacqui Cormach, Leslie Jones, Kirsty Garrett
Producer	Lilian Eilers

About the Play

The setting is present-day London and the Harley Street Consulting Room of Dr. Anton Lindenbrook, a stereotypical Viennese psychiatrist. Such places have not changed markedly over the decades, though psychiatry is no longer as popular or lucrative as it once was. . .so Dr. Lindenbrook is pleased when his nurse announces a new patient, Mr. Singleton, a Home Counties Englishman, who says he 'made the world'.

The Man Who Met His Maker - An Ontological Comedy won the ATC's fourth Playwriting Competition in 2001. The playwright Graham Andrews, a freelance writer from Northern Ireland, is a longtime resident of Brussels.

About the Group

The ATC, now in its 33rd year, is an international group of theatre enthusiasts performing five to six productions a year, ranging from informal comic sketches to American classics. Other activities include theatrical workshops, a biennial Playwriting Competition and an annual Spring Barbecue. Membership is free to all who offer a helping hand, whether on or off stage. The ATC has a free monthly newsletter, a website and a FRIENDS support group.

About the Play

What is a coarse actor? He can remember the lines but not the order on which they come; he firmly believes the professionals have nothing to teach him, while the size of his part bears no relation to its wrecking possibilities. . . Michael Green, author of The Art of Coarse Acting, puts his theories into practice in this delightful romp. Based on the Bard, it involves a hopscotch of stock Shakespearean characters and situations leading to much confusion and merriment : lovers, dukes, a clown, a friar, a nurse, a loon and the god Pan for good measure. Come meet them all in the forest of Solihull!

About the Group

Since 1975 the Brussels Shakespeare Society has promoted and performed the works of the BARD as well as occasionally exploring other old and new classic playwrights (Greek tragedy, Restoration comedy, Beckett, Fry, Lorca, and Stoppard). Performances are in English but casts, crews and audiences are multinational, all eager to explore the greatest English Playwright. The Society puts on two major productions per season, including a regular outdoor summer festival in a Belgian Chateau (the next, As You Like It on 21-23 June). Its programme of activities also includes studio productions, playreadings and workshops. The Society enjoys a close working relationship with the RSC in Stratford.

The Production Team

Director Jacqueline Nolan and Frank Ogilvie
Stage Manager Nina Cohen
Set design/Construction Frank Ogilvie, Mike Harvey, Peter Hopwood
Lighting Louis Spoelstra

About the Play

The "down there" generation: the women who never refer to the female genitalia except in hushed tones: the women who are victims of sexual violation, the women who have discovered the power of their vaginas and have awakened the beast within. The Vagina Monologues is a series of poignant and hilarious monologues, celebrating female sexuality in all of its complexity and mystery.

About the Group

The In Players were founded in 1947 by The British Society. It is Amsterdam's oldest English speaking theatre group. In addition to two to three major productions per year, the In Players also organise playreadings and workshops at a regular level, which are open to both members and non-members. Recent productions include Our Town (Thornton Wilder), An Inspector Calls (J.B. Priestley), Three Sisters (Anton Chekhov) and traditional English pantomimes. We also encourage members of the group to write and we have performed a number of original plays written by members. One of these was performed at the Edinburgh Festival Fringe in 1999.

Makeup/Hair	Ray Kleiber

About the Play

George and Nancy, an older married couple, are in an airport waiting lounge in Minneapolis. They are flying to Los Angeles for an appointment with a high-priced psychiatrist for some marriage counselling. While waiting, they get to know Bill, a musician who dabbles in philosophy, and Debbie, a would-be actress who is going to L.A. to audition for a movie.

About the Group

The Semi Circle is Basel's English language amateur theatre group. For more than a quarter of a century we have been staging plays, including musicals, before wildly appreciative and discerning audiences. Our main productions take place in spring and autumn every year. Playwrights we have paraphrased include: Ayckbourn to Coward; Miller to Pinter; Shaw to Wilde - and a host of others. We have also staged several original productions.

About the Play

A group of tourists have booked a tour around Shakespeare's birthplace, only to find that the tour brings them to a dusty attic in Droitwich. After the tour guide's short lecture, the seemingly dull location suddenly takes on a dramatically different atmosphere. . .

About the Group

CATS is based in Rheindahlen, Headquarters of the British Forces Germany and a multi-national element. We put on a pantomime in January and two or three other productions through the year. We now have a Youth Theatre which is going from strength to strength. The group has been in existence for about ten years and regularly performs in FEATS. Past triumphs include the adjudicator's discretionary award for our set and last year we won the time-keeping prize!!

Sound Laurie Lowrie
Costumes Marie-Claude Leroux
Makeup/Hair Josie O'Reilly
Dialog (sic) coach Laurie Lowrie

About the Play

Meet Jim and Marsha: married couple, middle class and approaching middle age. They're reluctant to admit it, even to themselves, but their life is in a bit of a rut. On their anniversary they went out to get drunk (at least, Jim did), but they just got sleepy. Enter Wanda, old school-mate of Jim's, whose life since those days has been anything but uneventful. Surprise, surprise, Wanda still has a soft spot for Jim. But her plan for renewing their friendship is unorthodox to say the least. Will Jim be tempted to wander? A surreal domestic comedy with genuinely funny moments.

About the Group

FEATS' only representative from France, Tagora is based at the Council of Europe in Strasbourg. Its cosmopolitan membership is drawn from Council staff and beyond. In recent years, as well as several FEATS contributions (Parcel, Wounds to the Face and Three More Sleepless Nights) the group has also staged full-scale productions of Twelfth Night, Arsenic and Old Lace, and When we are Married. Currently in preparation: a self-penned bilingual version of Cinderella, scheduled for early 2003. Internet site: <http://tagora.dk3.com>

Lighting	Heiko Scheuffle, Katarina Bühler
Sound	Joh Weisgerber
Video effects	Philip Grant, Volker Klittich, Ihab Abouzeid
Prompt	Madeline Shehab
Props	Anja Geyer & John Doyle

About the play

The starting point of this play is a true incident whereby a couple returned home to find asylum seekers on the couch. The action in Pricing Freedom reactivates a major clash of values within the Horowitz family. Much remains unsaid but the unfolding tension starts to destroy the deep bond between brother and sister. There are few comforting elements in this story as each character faced with difficult ethical choices has to choose between sacrifice or survival.

About the Group

ACTS was formed in 2001 to link Stuttgart students of media and students of drama with local English speaking non-professional theatre groups. The aim is collaboration in producing material for stage and screen and research into staging plays and site-specific events, which can also be enhanced by multi-media technology. Actors Greta Redmond and Andrew Golledge appeared in the 2001 Stuttgart Outcast Theatre production Phonesex, seen at the FEATS 2001 Fringe in the Hague.

About the Play

Foxtales is musical children's theatre which grown-ups will love. Based on Aesop's Fables, Foxtales follows Sonny the young fox as he goes into the world. He has (mis)adventures with other creatures, and learns a few lessons along the way.

About the Group

The Hamburg Players, founded in 1965 is not only the oldest English Language Theatre Group, but plays a significant part in the cultural scene of Northern Germany. We put on three productions a season at the Theater an der Marschnerstraße, each consisting of 10 performances. These plays are usually performed in November, February and May. We first performed at FEATS in 1980 and hope to host FEATS in Hamburg in the near future.

We would like to dedicate this play to Lea Seidenberg, who was originally cast in this production but due to ill health cannot appear on stage.

About the Play

The ambitious but untalented Amazon Theatre Group are to perform a little-known, passionate, seventeenth-century Spanish drama in a festival. Before curtain up, tensions are mounting: Judy is too nervous, director Irene picks a fight with her star actress Vanessa, Eve and Liz won't take anything seriously, while Lesley - but where is Lesley? And when she finally appears there is yet another problem. ... Does any of this sound familiar to regular FEATS participants?

About the Group

BATS started life in 1956 as an offshoot of an Antwerp French-speaking theatre group; its members felt that there was a place for English-language theatre as well, and from those early small beginnings has grown a self-confident, experienced drama society. BATS is one of the founders of FEATS, and its members are almost equally divided between native English-speakers and other nationalities, primarily Belgian. The highlight of the season is the annual pantomime, with up to 100 on stage and over 2,000 in the audience.

About the Play

When two middle-aged tourists sign up for a night of 'sleeping rough' in the city slums, they think they are in for a bit of fun, rather like a murder mystery evening. But the citizens of the garbage bins are not who they seem to be—and the tour turns dark and dangerous, at least for a while . . . Bad Taste takes a comedic look at the disparity between the 'haves' and 'have-nots' of our world. It's half of a pair of plays for five actors called Bad Taste/Good Form.

About the Group

Just over 50 years ago a group of diplomats came together in The Hague to produce a play as a post-war fund raising effort. The Anglo-American Theatre Group (now just 'AATG') was born. In the following half century, we covered the full spectrum of theatre—from panto to Beckett, from musicals to Shakespeare. We were in at the start of FEATS, and saw its triumphant return to The Hague for last year's Silver Anniversary. The group, with members from at least 15 different countries, is still growing. Our next production is Eve Ensler's Vagina Monologues in June 2002.

About the Play

The Spelling of Coynes is a darkly comic study of the desperate measures people will go to acquire riches. Middle-aged housepainter Louie falls under the spell of widow Maria's wealth, and together with girlfriend Goldie, plunges ever deeper into deception and self-delusion in his attempts to ensure that Maria's money comes their way.

Playwright Jules Tasca employs the device of male and female chorus to establish and reinforce each of the characters' real motives for their actions, and to pose the age-old question: Can money buy happiness?

About the Group

Frankfurt English Speaking Theatre (FEST), founded in 1977, has over 100 members and is the largest English-language amateur theatre group in the Rhine-Main area. Not ones to miss a chance to party, FEST is building the Silver Jubilee year celebrations into its June variety show, entitled 25 Years of FEST: Still Crazy. . . In J-Year-plus-one, FEST is looking forward to welcoming FEATS 2003 to Frankfurt/Bad Homburg for the Ascension Day weekend - from 29 May to 1 June 2003. We last had the honour of hosting you talented FEATS thespians in the beautiful surroundings of the Kurtheater in the spa town of Bad Homburg in 1996, and before that in 1991.

Please remain in your seats for the adjudication and prizegiving

Chinese Restaurant Steamed Specialities (DIM SUM)

One of the best Chinese Restaurants in the Capital;
the bill is just as light as their steamed dishes.
(TRENDS - Peter Van Doveren)

A very pleasant surprise. I recommend it most strongly.
(Chambertin)

A sensation... Some wonderful things happen in the kitchen of this restaurant.
